The Coleman Powermate 1850 is a small, portable generator used for camping, in camper trailers or as a backup for home safety. These units are powered by gas and have various attachments to charge and power electric devices. Because these units are small, they pack away into the generator housings on motor homes and camping trailers. Though no longer for sale on the Coleman site as of 2014, the 1850 is still available through online sellers.
