Lead acid battery - Wikipedia

The lead acid battery was invented in 1859 by French physicist Gaston Plant and is the oldest type of rechargeable battery. Despite having a very low energy-to-weight ratio and a low energy-to-volume ratio, its ability to supply high surge currents means that the cells have a relatively large power-to-weight ratio.

I have 4 sealed lead acid calcium batteries on a narrowboat wired in 24v config. 2 sit lengthwise across the boat on one side; 2 sit lengthwise running down the boat on one side. The boat tends to lean side to side slightly with changes in weight placement. Does the orientation matter and will it affect the life of the batteries.
